POLITICS OF NEW HAMPSHIEE .- Mr. Orr, of Weller, of California, addressed a mass meeting | Piney woods. of the Democracy of New Hampshire at Con-Know Nothingism very strongly. Mr. Orr defended the South against the charge of aggression opon the rights of the North; and, in turn, tharged the North with continually infringing apon the constitutional rights of the South. He defended the compromise measures and the Nebraska bill. Mr. Cobb, according to the report of These are Facts and no Misthe Boston Post, "expressed his pleasant feelings at meeting a New England audience for the first time, and said that if the people of the different parts of the Union understood each from misconception would be abated and the spirit of sectionalism be lessened. The great principle of the Revolution, which had been and should now be the animating principle of the American Republic, was self-government. The doctrine of non-interference between the States in the matter of slavery was ably presented at

SLAVE EMANCIPATION CASE .- At New Orleans last week, a lady who owns twenty slaves and says that she feels desirous of emancipating, applied should be removed out of the State.

STRONG ICE .- One of the heavy Cincinnati steam fire engines was taken over the Mississippi river on the ice at St. Louis on the 21st ult. A bold teamster of the city, named Meyer undertook, for $100, to haul it across with a team of five horses. He gave a bond of $8,000 to deliver it safely at the warehouse of Lyon.
